

The Ayash3 Sponsorship Group's Great BC Fuel Rebate Challenge

Whether you feel insulted, guilty, irritated, grateful, or ambivalent about the recently-announced BC Fuel Rebate, there is a solution. You are invited and challenged to turn all or part of it into a donation towards the sponsorship of a Syrian family waiting to come to Nanaimo.

Simply find which category below describes your situation, and follow the instructions at the bottom of the page.

___ If you drive an electric car, you're among the lucky ones who haven't felt the impact of rising fuel prices. You can afford to donate $110.

___ If your vehicle is a Plug-in Hybrid Electric Vehicle, your pain at the pump has been less significant. Why not donate in dollars your vehicle's advertised range on a full charge?

___ Hybrids present a bit of a challenge. How about donating the same percentage of the rebate as you tell your gas-guzzling friends you are saving by having gone hybrid?

___ If you drive a gas-powered car, and are insulted by the thought that $110 makes any kind of a difference, we can put it to good use.

___ If you own a gas-powered car but haven't driven much due to Covid, pick a percentage that works for you.

___ If you drive a gas-powered car and are grateful for even the tiniest bit of help from the government, this rebate was meant for you. Accept and enjoy.

Now that you've chosen your category, email Ayash3project@shaw.ca for more information or visit our website at <http://ladysmithrefugeesponsorship.org> and decide exactly how you want to make your donation.
